Arak Service

Arak – The Milk of Lions

Lebanon’s iconic anise-flavoured grape spirit, celebrated for its crisp, aromatic profile and dramatic transformation when mixed with water—turning from clear to a milky-white hue, earning it the nickname “the milk of lions.” At Sahtein, Arak is the spirit of the table. we blend it with chilled water and ice, unlocking its signature flavour and silky texture. Enjoy Arak as the perfect palate cleanser between mezze.

Lebanese Wines

Lebanese wine is one of the oldest wine cultures in the world and one of the most distinctive in the Mediterranean. Its history dates back over 5,000 years to the Phoenicians, early traders who spread wine across the region. Roman influence followed, with Baalbek standing as a lasting symbol of the area's historic wine culture. Modern Lebanese wine was reshaped in the 19th century under strong French Jesuit influence, explaining the prevalence of Bordeaux varieties and classic winemaking techniques. Today, vineyards are centred in the high-altitude Bekaa Valley, where climate and elevation define the style. Together, these elements create wines that reflect both ancient heritage and a clearly defined Mediterranean character.

White Wines

In white wines, international varieties such as Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc and Viognier sit alongside indigenous grapes like Obeideh and Merwah. These native varieties are particularly significant, offering freshness, texture and subtle herbal notes, while expressing a strong sense of place shaped by altitude, sun and cool mountain nights.

Red Wines

Red wines in Lebanon combine international grapes like Cabernet Sauvignon and Syrah with indigenous varieties such as Mariami grape, alongside Mediterranean grapes like Carignan and Grenache. Shaped by limestone soils, generous sunlight and high altitude vineyards, the wines show freshness, spice and a distinct sense of place.
